TO MEN IN TRAFFIC DEPARTMENTS:

HERE IS — PERHAPS —

YOUR BIG CHANCE!

● Right in your present field—possibly right in your present company—there's a big opportunity for men trained as experts in Traffic Management.

Almost daily new tariffs, rates, rules, routes, and competitive methods make trained men necessary for the most profitable operation of traffic.

And—so far—this field is quite open. There's a big need for traffic experts, yet there are too few qualified men.

You, however, can become such a man—rather quickly, too. A few months' LaSalle training will fit you to handle this work—will bring you to the attention of the management—will lay the groundwork for a fine future.

Because you are already familiar with transportation, you start with every advantage over men from other fields.

Find out—now—about this interesting, profitable training.

Remember, LaSalle Traffic Management training gives you the knowledge and ability to handle every phase of the work. It is complete and practical—prepared with the aid of 75 successful traffic men—proved resultful during 26 years—constantly kept up to the minute.

You can take LaSalle training at home in your spare time at a remarkably low cost—a cost your own management may even help you meet.

A postcard or letter will bring you full information by return mail—without cost or obligation.

Why not find out about it—today!
